

Regional In-Service Education Center

COMPLIMENTARY INVITATION

Student achievement is the result of good decision making. From hiring and retaining staff to student assignments and program planning, the best decisions are based on solid reasoning, diverse stakeholder input, data and a good process.

Join us for an introduction to excellent decision making:

Collaborative Decision Making for School Leaders

Learn how:

- A step-by-step process can guide decision making by asking the right questions
- Building the collaborative decision-making capacity of your staff can lead to better results in all areas
- Including key stakeholders can increase commitment and buy-in
- Using the solid reasoning derived from process can save time and money

Since 1993, TregoED has helped education leaders achieve strategic, operational, and classroom goals. Leaders use these proven processes to solve tough problems and make critical decisions. And because success requires effective collaboration, these systematic approaches help stakeholders work together in achieving high quality outcomes.

OCT. 9, 2019

9:00 AM–3:30 PM
(lunch provided)

This workshop features:

Large & small group work,
using authentic educational scenarios &
job-embedded learning—
you can even start work on your district's decisions

Teams (3–5 people per district) encouraged

Local PLU's available

Reserve your spot now

by contacting
ANGELA LEWIS,
(UA/UWA In-Service Center office associate)

205-348-3319 or allewis6@ua.edu

by SEPT. 27, 2019

“Using TregoED processes has helped us approach problems and decisions in a collaborative and deliberate way. Process helps us get a better handle on problems and develop effective, defensible solutions and action plans.”

Dr. Michael Daria, Superintendent
Tuscaloosa City Schools (AL)